

Windows Software Suite Import Cad Files

Import CAD Files

The Windows Software Suite allows importing DXF, PLT (hpgl) and G-Code files for marking logos, diagrams etc

The imported image may even be edited directly by the software. The dynamic interface screen lets the user click on a line and highlights the associated entity on the graphical display and by clicking on the entity, the associated line will be highlighted

Several graphic files (lines) may be added to the main screen, each one has its own properties

The image may be scaled as required directly in the software. The image may be moved by entering the X & Y value in the properties section or by clicking to a position with the mouse
